Pre- & Post-Natal

Take moms-to-be from traditional Matwork to variations that address their changing bodies. Learn appropriate exercise adaptations taking individual factors into consideration such as fitness level and health concerns.

Learn choreography, exercise essence and correct biomechanics of movement, as well as how to effectively utilize the power of music to create safe and fun barre classes that focus on increasing strength, flexibility, stamina and dynamic stability. It truly is a program geared for everyone!

Foundation Course

The Total Barre Foundation Course provides the groundwork for Instructors to produce safe, effective and varied barre programs. The course presents 11 specially arranged and selected segments — accompanied by timed selections of music — that serve as the template for each session or class and produce a balanced and complete workout.

Professional Development and Continuing Education

These sessions focus on exercise progressions, movement form and efficiency, and the importance of cueing with music for movement quality. Workshops provide Instructors with pre-programmed workouts specifically designed to address a specific aspect of training or to suit a particular target group.

A unique mind-body modality that fuses elements of Pilates, yoga, martial arts and meditation into a series of flowing movements that emphasize the breath.

Learn to program workouts and integrate exercises in a playful yet powerful mix of three-dimensional circular and wave-like patterns designed to stimulate the fascia and take stress off the joints.

Foundation Courses

The ZEN•GA Mat and Equipment Foundation Courses teach four Mindful Movement Principles and demonstrate how to apply them to movement sequences that emphasize proper breathing and posture and vary in tempo, load and intensity. Participants will benefit in all areas of wellness, from muscular strength, endurance and mobility to stability without rigidity. Most importantly, they will develop an increased sense of self.

Professional Development and Continuing Education

Comprised of both mat- and equipment-based material, these sessions focus on particular areas of the course, including breath, fascial lines and fluidity, for an increased depth of knowledge.

An athletic conditioning education method engineered for total-body power, strength and agility.

This unique training program focuses on functional fitness targeting core strength and kinesthetic awareness, leading to improvements in total-body strength and power. This multi-layered system is designed to help retrain unbalanced muscles, initiate the core, and build strength from within that will transfer on and off the playing field!

Foundation Course

The CORE™ Athletic Conditioning & Performance Training™ Foundation Course introduces important concepts of athletic conditioning and performance training. Emphasis is placed on using 11 Foundational Principles when training athletes, covering alignment and biomechanics for optimal performance. In addition, components of athletic conditioning are reviewed including resistance training methods, plyometric training, balance training, and speed and agility training.

Professional Development and Continuing Education

These workshops incorporate the various concepts covered in the course while utilizing a variety of large and small equipment options to provide targeted training strategies. Although it helps to have prior CORE training, these workshops are not restricted to those who have completed the Foundation Course, so anyone can benefit from the information provided.

A versatile training program and tool that promote functional strength and stability for all of your clients – from post-rehab to elite athletes.

Foundation Courses

The Halo Training Instructor Foundation Courses (Part 1 & Part 2) present the concepts of interval training principles and variables, the theories of both timed- and repetition-based programs, and exercise sequences that progress through beginner, intermediate and advanced levels (for client levels 1 to 4). Learn a variety of interval workouts focusing on providing overall body conditioning that incorporates strength and endurance work, flexibility training, recovery and injury prevention. Discover progressions and regressions that alter the difficulty level and meet the needs and goals of a variety of clients and groups.

Professional Development and Continuing Education

This series of workshops provides fitness professionals, movement specialists and rehab and post-rehab professionals with additional strategies to create progressive exercise programs utilizing interval training models and post-rehabilitation concepts with a multi-dimensional approach. Develop techniques for altering training variables that make Halo Training appropriate for any stage of rehabilitation, post-rehabilitation, functional training or high-level performance coaching.

Note to course or workshop participants, Halo® Instructor Training is a unique, high-intensity interval training program that requires a high level of fitness, and is not suitable for those recovering from injury, pre-natal/post-natal participants or those unused to cardio-based exercise.
